«DETOX NEW» PROGRAM 10 days

An intensive detoxification program that aims to speed up the natural metabolism, restore cellular functions, and improve the body's vitality. The program helps normalize weight, improve flushing out of exo- and endotoxins and free radicals, and reduce oxidative stress. Our specifically targeted methods employ science-based principles with a personalized approach and the most up-to-date knowledge on preventing aging processes. The program combines molecular hydrogen, low pressure, hydro-, phyto-, peloid factors, carbon dioxide, and drainage techniques.

A nutritionist supervises your personal nutrition program. Based on your clinical data, the nutritionist chooses the detox diet to achieve the best results and improve your vitamins and trace nutrients absorption. You will receive recommendations on how to adapt your dietary style after the program. The team of supervising physicians will also provide recommendations in accordance with the results of your tests to identify deficiency conditions, stimulate enhanced detoxification systems, and improve your lifestyle.
